About

Mali is predominantly Muslim and one of the least developed countries in the world. Most Christians live in the south of the country and many face increasing pressure due to the threat of Islamic extremist groups, like al-Qaeda, from the north. It's hard for Muslims who convert to Christianity to live out their faith and they often have to keep it a secret from their families. Missionaries also live under the constant threat of abduction.

Story

“I started to face serious problems when the Islamists heard about me and the conversion of some of the people [from Islam to Christianity].”

– Sory* from Mali.

Sory was threatened by Islamic extremists when they heard about his ministry in central Mali. Sory was forced to flee, leaving his family traumatised.

Pray

Pray for Christians like Sory who continue to share the gospel despite the cost.

Pray for protection for believers in Mali and that they find peace in the Lord.
