About

The Malaysian Constitution defines ‘Malay’ as a follower of Islam. Converts to Christianity are often monitored, intimidated and harassed. They also cannot attend public church activities. Muslims who leave Islam to follow Jesus risk being punished or sent to a camp where they’re pressured to deny Christ. Islamic education is compulsory at all state primary schools and pre-schools.

Story

“I cannot actively participate in the church... I don’t want to get anybody into trouble.”

– Aina* from Malaysia and first Muslim convert in her town.

Since becoming a Christian, Aina is cautious to not draw unwanted attention from Muslim family members and authorities.

Pray

Pray for Christians to remain steadfast in their faith.

Pray for secret believers to be able to meet together and be encouraged in remaining faithful to Jesus.
